KIDNEY WORT

THE ONLY MEDICINE
That Acts at the Same Time on
THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

These great organs are the natural cleansers of the system. If they work well health will be perfect. If they become clogged or inactive diseases are sure to follow.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING.

Biliousness, Headache, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Constipation and Piles, or Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Diabetes, Sediment in the Urine, Milky or Ropy Urine, or Rheumatic Pains and Aches, are developed because the blood is poisoned with the humors that should have been expelled naturally will restore the healthy action and these destroying evils will be banished. Don't let them add you will live but to suffer.

Thousands have been cured. Try it and you will add one more to the number and health will once more gladden your heart.

Why suffer longer from the torment of an aching back?

Why bear such distress from Constipation and Piles?

Why be so fearful because of disordered urine?

Kidney-Wort will cure you. Try a package at once and be satisfied.

It is a dry vegetable compound and one Package makes six quarts of Medicine.

Your Druggist has it, or will get it for you. Send upon receipt of Price, $1 00

Daniels, colored, of Laurens county, South Carolina, made last year 550 bushels of corn, three bales of cotton, weighing 500 pounds each, together with peas, potatoes and syrup plenty to do him. He owns 400 acres of land, for which he paid $1,450 cash, also 20 head of cattle, 10 head of sheep, three horses, and is entirely out of debt.

The Trustees of the Maine State Agricultural Society are still debating where to locate the State Show and Fair for the next three years. A movement is being made to raise a fund of $1500 to put the Lewiston trotting Park in condition. It is understood, if this movement is successful, that the State Fair will locate at Lewiston for three years.

Things are going on swimmingly at the Bridgton corn factory. The contracts for planting corn are nearly all made, and an extra force will soon be added to the canmaking corps. The farmers have evinced more than usual readiness to make contracts for planting. An addition is being made to the bath-house, which will double its capacity.

Miss Hannah Dorman, recently deceased in Kennebunk, whose will was entered for probate at the last term in Biddeford left certain public bequests therein as follows: Second Congregational Parish, Kennebunk, $250, American Bible Society, $500; Maine Missionary Society American Board of Commissioners Foreign Missions, and American Tract Society of Boston, $250 each.

The trial of the two Belfast lodges of Odd Fellows has been completed before the committees appointed by the Grand Lodge. A large amount of testimony was taken. The contending parties are to submit their arguments in writing, and the decision of the committees will not be reached for several weeks, and will not be announced, until the meeting of the Grand Lodge in August.

The panther that created such a sensation at Poland a short time ago, has been again heard from. At least, a wild animal, supposed to be the same unique beast, turned up the other day at South Lewiston. The story is to the effect that an old gentleman went to the pasture after the cows, when he was confronted by a pair of blazing eyes and a tawny, savage-looking creature. He ran home for assistance. A party of neighbors quickly joined in the hunt and the supposed panther was tracked into Lisbon. Those who caught a glimpse of the animal report that he was as large as a good sized Newfoundland dog.

A Mount Gilead (Ky.) murder trial last week wound up with a marriage ceremony. William McKinney seduced Annie Smith, and last Christmas Annie's father drove her and McKinney from the house. A quarrel ensued in which McKinney killed Smith, but Annie has since been living with her seducer, who is but a boy. McKinney's counsel begged the jury that tried him to let the boy go free, and promised that, if they did, he and Annie would marry. The jury gave a verdict of "not guilty," and immediately McKinney and the daughter of the murdered man stepped before the bench and were declared man and wife by the judge.

MONDAY, MAY 24, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT:

JAMES G. BLAINE.

REDUCED FARES TO THE

CHICAGO CONVENTION.

The Executive Committee of the BLAINE CLUB of MAINE, having perfected their arrangements for an Excursion to Chicago to attend the Republican National Convention, make the following announcement for the benefit of those Republicans who may desire to attend and aid in nominating our honored Senator, JAMES G. BLAINE, as candidate for President at the coming election.

A special train over the Eastern Railroad will leave Portland, Thursday, May 27th, on the arrival of the morning train from Bangor, arriving in Boston in season for tea. The party will leave Boston for Chicago direct the same evening by special train, with Wagner sleeping cars, over the Boston and Albany, New-York Central, Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroads, taking breakfast Friday morning at Syracuse, dinner at East Buffalo, and tea at Cleveland, arriving at CHICAGO Saturday morning. Ample hotel accommodations have been engaged for 250 persons at the Gardiner and Mattison Houses, and rooms will be assigned on the train to the excursionists, avoiding confusion on their arrival. Hotel bills $2 50 and $5 per day.

Fare from PORTLAND to CHICAGO and return, $27. Wagner Sleeping Cars to Chicago, $5 50. Excursionists taken to and from Portland from stations on Maine Central R. R. at one fare; tickets to be procured at all stations. Persons desiring to go can have their berths in sleeping cars assigned, by enclosing $5 50 to the Treasurer of the Club, H. S. OSGOOD, Portland. Those wishing to secure rooms should address the Secretary, J. SWETT ROWE, Augusta, as early as possible.

The committee have succeeded in arranging that the tickets to Chicago and back shall be good for fifteen days from May 27th. The train will run by the way of Niagara Falls, and arrangements will be made to make a stop there of three hours to view the objects of interest.

All Republicans are cordially invited to join the excursion.

J. R. BODWELL, President.
J. SWETT ROWE, Secretary.
Augusta, April 23, 1880.

THE CHICAGO ROLL-CALL.

There continues to be considerable divergence in the estimates made by the friends of different candidates of the coming roll-call at Chicago, but only the wildest of the third-term boomers are so extravagant as to claim a majority for Grant on the first ballot. Ex-Congressional Printer Clapp, now of the National Republican, and the most absolutely reckless of the Grant slate-makers, claims 398 for Grant, to 169 for Blaine; 90 for Sherman; 35 for Edmunds and 13 for Washburne. To make up this showing he counts for Grant four votes from Arkansas, six from Georgia, ten from Indiana, four from Kentucky, two from Massachusetts, one from Michigan, one from Mississippi, two from New Hampshire, four from New Jersey, nine from New York, eight from North Carolina, nineteen from Pennsylvania, one from Rhode Island, nine from South Carolina, six from Tennessee, seven from Texas, twelve from Virginia, two from West Virginia, and one from Wisconsin, 108 in all, which certainly do not belong in the Grant column, while Mr. Bartlett, of the National Blaine Club, claims that the above Grant estimate includes 136 delegates who will not vote for the ex-President. Mr. Bartlett's figures are Grant 262; Blaine, 323; Sherman, 94; Edmunds, 32; Washburne, 11. In this he claims 22 votes from Pennsylvania and 20 from New York on the first ballot, if the delegates are allowed to vote as they please, but if a unit rule should be arbitrarily enforced the 58 Pennsylvania delegates would be given at once by a majority to Mr. Blaine.

The N. Y. Tribune has all along been inclined to give a liberal estimate of the third-term strength, as the strongest incentive to labor to defeat it, and its distribution of the 732 delegates already chosen is: Grant, 290; Blaine 277; Sherman, 106; Edmunds 36; Washburne, 13. The Tribune, gives a list of the names of eighteen of the New York delegates and nineteen of the Pennsylvania delegates who will vote against Grant and for Blaine from the start.

But 24 more delegates are to be chosen—16 of them in Louisiana to-day, 6 in Colorado to-morrow and two in Idaho. If Grant should get them all he would still lack by the Tribune's estimate 60 votes of a majority, and by the Blaine Club figures he would be 93 short.

With a great popular protest and contesting delegations from Gen. Grant's own State, the strong feeling of indignation aroused by the grab game in New York and Pennsylvania, will be intensified, and it will be impossible for the National Republican Convention to be captured by the third-term syndicate. Every day's events for the past six months have only rendered it more obvious that the choice of the Republicans of the country is JAMES G. BLAINE, and the desperation of ... his opponents is only ... his nomination more certain.

"ANTI-THIRD TERM."

The following extract from Gov. Winthrop's "History of New England" shows very curiously how early the prejudice against what we have come to know as the "3d term," existed even in the very beginning of our country's experience. Speaking of the election of Governor of the Colony in 1640, he writes:

"The Court of Elections was at Boston and Thomas Dudley, Esq., was chosen Governor. Some trouble there had been in making way for his election and it was obtained with some difficulty, for many of the elders labored much in it, fearing lest the long continuance of one man in the place should bring it to be for life, and in time, hereditary."

POLITICAL.

Keep it in mind that the next Republican candidate for the Presidency will not nominated till the Chicago Convention meets on June 2. Keep it in mind, also, that the Republican party has had too much experience to make the mistake of nominating a man whom it cannot be sure of electing.—N. Y. Tribune.

The following despatches were received by the National Blaine Club in Washington, Thursday evening:

COLUMBUS, Neb., May 20, 1880.
To J. W. BARTLETT:

Nebraska elects six solid delegates for Blaine by majority over Grant of 2 to 1.

FREDERICK NYE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20, 1880.

The California, Nevada and Oregon delegations leave here on Tuesday in special car bearing the motto, "First, last and all the time for Blaine."

DRURY MELONE.

In commenting on the Illinois Convention, the Tribune says that the result was reached only by a bold and naked defiance of the rules formerly recognized in previous National Conventions as binding upon the party. It urges meetings of people to protest and the sending of protesting delegates to the Chicago Convention.

The Peoria, Illinois, District by a vote of 35 anti-Grant men to four Grant men, chose two anti-Grant delegates to Chicago, but Logan's programme coolly substituted two Grant delegates for that District! That's what they call "spontaneity."

HIGH STANDING.

The Commercial comes to the defence of the defaulting suicide who held in his custody the treasures of the First National Bank, Augusta, and insults the intelligence and common sense of the people of that city by saying "no gentleman in Augusta stood higher in the public estimation than he!" The exclamation point at the close of that sentence is ours.

So we must accept an embezzler and a man of dissolute habits, a betrayer of the confidence of the friends who signed his bond, as the Commercial's estimate of high-standing "in the public estimation." We must confess that is not the way we have been in the habit of gauging men—those are not the models we desire to hold up to the youth of this country for imitation! We have usually regarded a man of sober habits, straightforward and honest in his dealings, moral and upright in his life and walk, as rather entitled to public esteem and emulation. But the Commercial appears to measure men by its own debauched standard of political integrity. An advocate of communism, repudiation and public dishonor, it naturally rushes to the championship of whatever is depraved on the principle that "a fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind."

We are always inclined to give a generous application to the motto "de mortuis nil nisi bonum," and it is with sorrow for the unhappy man and sympathy for his innocent family that we have felt obliged, in the interest of public morals and the sanctity of fiduciary obligations, to present the facts of this case distinctly as a warning.

THE FORLORN HOPE.

SLANDER TO THE FRONT—HURRY UP YOUR OLD CALUMNIES SOON, OR THEY WILL BE USELESS—BLAINE, MULLIGAN, ETC.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

SIR: As it is now but a few weeks to the Chicago Convention we must be very near the belt of detraction through which a prominent candidate passes to success. As the Grant boom becomes daily more spasmodic and hysterical, and as the Blaine boom deepens into heavier thunders, we may look any day for a meteoric shower of slanders upon the head of Mr. Blaine. Indeed, the first drops—or, shall we say aerolites?—of that shower have already begun. The Journal of Civilization, sharing your convictions as to who is the leading candidate, has moved promptly to the front with its whole rather higgle-ty-piggledy assortment of slanders—some thoroughly fresh and strictly original, others odorously stale, and others, oddly enough, showing themselves as stunch, eternal principles even through the disguise of slander thrown over them. If gross ignorance and reckless inveracity constitute civilization, then Civilization is justified of her Journal, and we may predict with confidence a motley series of scandals, rather daintily lisped on one page, rather coarsely limned on another, but all counted in as a part of that moral reform which is to introduce a higher element into politics.

A religious newspaper here and there which ekes out its circulation by bribing subscribers with chromos, a Doctor of Divinity here and there who never squares up his debts, but whose Society is forced each year to meet in the vestry and pay his butcher's bills, a dozen or so young men from the colleges burning for renown, but burdened as yet with no heavier responsibility than tennis and taffy; and all the truculent virtue of Massachusetts, will now fall into line, and like the man who hired a steed for a funeral, will keep up with the procession if it kills the horse. Politics will be so purified by such a din and dust and stench of virtuous scandal, from the ten righteous men in our Republican Sodom that we shall long for a little quiet, honorable, ostentatious vice.

Come now, Messieurs Les Assassins, a proud country waits to see which of you will be the first to follow the lead of our lofty J. o. C. High-hearted young Republicans of Massachusetts, chivalrous Leaguers of Pennsylvania, which one of you is ready to take the bloody shirt from the hand of Thomas Nast and flaunt it in derision over the grave of Chisolm or in the face of the fleeing thousands of the African exodus? Or will you win immortality out of the Credit Mobilier, from which the only man who plucked a stable credit was the candidate whom you confront? There are the Mulligan letters—though by this time that scandal stinketh, for it hath been dead four years—was indeed slain at its birth by the strong hand it was bred to sting, and the age of miracles is past—but perhaps Boston, with her infinite resources of muck and pluck, might stir up the mass once more, and set a few maggots crawling, merely to illustrate the height of her own great argument. Or you might jog your giant intellects to join issue on the Silver question, which, in its day, not so very long ago, was duly cursed with bell, book and candle, but since the European States have been taking it into consideration and seriously debating, not to say admitting, the absolute necessity of a bi-metallic currency, our sweet Chariots have swung perceptibly lower, and it is pretty hard for a silver moralist to raise himself along side the best financial authorities of the globe without finding himself uncomfortably near the "demagogue" whom he denounced. The Chinese question undoubtedly appeared to offer a good handle to opposition, yet it somehow slips in the hold. Apart from the fact that all American people, and even all New England citizens, are not so absolutely aghast as Massachusetts at the spectacle of a man vigorously differing in opinion from themselves, there is slowly filtering into ... the thoughtful mind ... conviction that there is something in the Chinese Question after all. The sentimentalists are as sonorous as ever. The sentimentalists are always the last to be permeated by a fact. But the working-men, with minds stimulated by necessity, are rapidly developing a suspicion that they have some rights which Government is bound to respect, whether sentimentalists do or not, and that this country is owned by Americans and not by any foreigners whatever, and that the first duty of a Government, whether National, or State, or family, is toward its own and not toward another's. They see, also, that our Government is slowly swinging around to the same position, and is sending abroad a commission to modify the treaty and restrict immigration, virtually yields the whole question. It will not be easy to array the workingmen, the rank and file of this country, against the man who first saw the danger and took position against it, at the cost of bringing upon himself the odium of the whole sincere sentimentality of the East, and the rich and powerful corporations of the Western Coast. If Kearney had not been put in jail he would have done yeoman's service for Messieurs Slanderers at this juncture, but his electioneering was cut off untimely and the lips of a thousand Young Republicans are sealed to silence behind his prison walls.

The J. o. C. has shown its good will, but has at the same time exhibited great lack of invention and enterprise. In fiction the probabilities and the unities should be strictly observed. As an arraignment or a threat, the presentation of the J. o. C. is but beggarly. Its only effect is to reveal the poverty of the slanderer's resources. An abler hand, a more robust ingenuity, must create stronger missiles, or the attempt will be discreditable even to the Youngest Republicans.

Wherefore, Messieurs Les Assassins, since the candidate must be attacked in order to give you the cry that no candidate must need defence, and since you nobly throw yourselves into the breach and make the attack yourselves, rather than have the play stop—be wise in time—in the very short time that must elapse between May 4 and June 3: Do not throw away all your advantages by copying French chivalry and waiting for each other. Run, rush, leap to slander. There needs but a little more hardihood to pluck the crown which now rests on the brow of Nast-iness and place it on your own. The nomination of Mr. Blaine is most imminent. He has gone in and out before the people for twenty years, and they believe in him. Argument, reason, experience, observation, pride, love—all make in his favor. Even slander may not avail, but slander is the only force from which there is any hope of success. Slander is not a sure nor a stalwart weapon; but now, mine own dear little boys, there is no way but this.

T. B. W.

Brooklyn, May 4, 1880.

It will be noticed by the announcement of the Blaine Club, that the fare to Chicago and return has been reduced to twenty-seven dollars.

BASELESS BOASTING.

[Wash. Cor. N. Y. Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, May 21. The third-term managers in Washington have been more demonstrative to-day than at any time before since the Pennsylvania and New York Conventions, and actually succeeded in making some people at the Capital, who did not stop to figure up the delegations for themselves, believe that the ex-President was now certain to be nominated on the first ballot; but the Blaine and Sherman men are not in the least disturbed, and boldly challenge the Grant men to show where the ex-President is to get within a hundred votes of enough to nominate him on the first ballot.

Despite all the boasting, General Grant's friends have not thus far secured for him a single vote from a free State, between the crest of the Alleghany Mountains and the Pacific Ocean, except from Illinois. If it should be conceded that he will have the solid vote of New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois (and the supporters of neither Blaine nor Sherman concede this, but the number of anti-Grant votes from the first two States at the very lowest estimate at 35), the ex-President will then have in the North only 160 votes to secure a nomination on the first ballot; therefore he must secure 209 of the 279 votes of the Southern States.

But Blaine and Sherman already have more than half the Southern votes pledged to them. Mr. Blaine's friends claim for him alone eighty Southern votes, and that without counting any doubtful delegates; while Secretary Sherman's friends have elected at least an equal number south of the Potomac and Ohio Rivers. Give Grant one-half of the Southern votes and he will still lack 70 of a nomination on the first ballot.

In this estimate it must be remembered New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois have been counted as solid for Grant, and every vote he loses in those three States makes the majority against Grant on the first ballot two greater. From this brief and simple calculation it will be seen how preposterous is the assertion of the Grant men that the ex-President can be nominated on the first ballot.

"RIDING ROUGHSHOD."

[From the New York Tribune.]

Regardless alike of the rules of the party, the rights of Congressional Districts, and their own record in the Cook County matter, the Grant managers in Illinois forced their programme through with a high hand, packed a solid Grant delegation to Chicago, and bound it with instructions lest it should break loose after all their trouble. The Chicago districts which have just expressed their repudiation of the third-term scheme in so conspicuous a manner, have Grant delegates forced upon them, and the country districts, whose Republican voters were reported by their representatives in the Convention to be nine to one against Grant, are served in the same way. One thing can be said in favor of Logan, who "bossed" the Convention in a rude Western fashion by a method we are not wholly unaccustomed to here in the East—there was nothing small about him. He adopted no half way measures. He set out to give the State to Grant, and he did it without hesitating on account of such trifling things as decency, consistency, courtesy, the good of the party, or the danger of a defection that may ruin it at the election. To use the coarse phrase current, on his own praises, "he went the whole hog." What the defrauded Republicans of the anti-Grant Districts will do we shall see in a day or two.

BION BRADBURY FOR DELEGATE TO CINCINNATI.

Local Option Plank in the Democratic Platform.

PORTLAND, May 23.

The Democrats of Portland have decided to urge the claims of Hon. Bion Bradbury for delegate at large to the Cincinnati Convention, at the State Convention at Bangor. It is reported that they will urge a prohibition plank in the platform.

Sentenced for Larceny.

PORTLAND, May 22. Fred Bouchaut and Charles Roony of Boston, were each sentenced to sixty days in the county jail for larceny.

Loss of a Brig Bound for Bangor.

PORTLAND, May 23. The brig Joseph W. Bartlett of Boston, for Bangor, to load ice on Segum Rock at the mouth of the Kennebec, during the thick fog, the pilot mistaking Segum for Monhegan. The vessel is a total loss. The crew were saved.

The Work of Lightning—Injury to Persons and Property.

The house of Joseph Nutter, at Newfield, was struck by lightning on Thursday night, seriously injuring Mr. and Mrs. Nutter and killing a pair of valuable horses in the barn.

Body Recovered.

GARDINER, May 23. The body of Jimmie Christopher, aged 7 years, son of John Christopher, of this city, who has been missing since the 10th instant, was found in the water near the shore of the river this morning. Probably accidental drowning.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS--Second Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

A communication was received from the secretary of the Treasury answering the Senate resolution of inquiry regarding the method adopted in the revenue service in subtracting the tare on foreign sugars ordered in boxes. The Secretary reports that 14 per cent. is allowed in such cases. This rate is thought to represent the average tare, but the importer may insist upon the ascertainment of the actual tare in any case.

A resolution was adopted directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate of the number, location and annual cost of buildings in the District of Columbia leased by the United States Government.

The joint rule for the counting of the electoral vote was taken up. Morgan spoke in its support and Conkling in opposition. Adjourned.

House.

The Senate passed the bill extending the northern boundary of Nebraska, so as to include all that part of the present territory of Dakota south of the forty thirty parallel, west of the Keyapaha river and west of the main channel of the Missouri river, when such Indians' claim to such land shall be extinguished.

After debate the morning hour was dispensed with. There was a good deal of opposition shown to proceeding to the consideration of bills for the erection of public buildings. When the motion to go into committees was made the opposition refused to vote and raised the point of "no quorum."

The House finally went into committee upon the bill reported from the committee on public buildings.

After a series of votes on questions of order, etc., the committee rose and the House adjourned without transacting any business.

THE READING COMPANY'S FAILURE.

Operations to be Conducted as Usual, with no Interruption to Business.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22. The excitement over the Reading Company's failure to-day continues. It is rumored that there are a number of failures on Third street, but the only ones reported are James B. Young & Co., Butler, Newhall & Co. and C. H. Jordan & Co. Reading stock sold down as low as 10 per share, but now 12 is bid with 12 asked. Pennsylvania sold down but recovered one dollar. Lehigh sold at 49 at opening, but has advanced to 50.

A statement is made by the officials of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad and Coal and Iron Companies that operations will be conducted as usual and that there will be no interruption of business. All the collieries work will be recommenced Monday and continue until Wednesday night. A receivership will be applied for and Mr. Gowen or Edwin M. Lewis, President of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank, will be named for the position.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22. Nothing definite in relation to the suspension of the Reading Railroad and Reading Coal and Iron Company can be learned to-day at the offices of the Railroad Company. Mr. Gowen states that he has no statement ready for the public as yet, and none of the other officers will give any information as to the causes leading to the failures. From outside sources, however, it is learned that the Board of Directors of the Reading Railroad held a meeting to-day and decided to place the affairs of the corporation in the hands of three trustees. No plan of action is decided on yet as far as can be ascertained.

Loans to the Railroad Amply Secured.

NEW YORK, May 23. The World has the following: Some of the recent loans of the Philadelphia & Reading Company were negotiated through New York bankers. It is estimated that the amount of paper outstanding in New York does not exceed $1,000,000, divided as follows: Bank of America, $600,000; Manhattan Banking Institution, $100,000; Jay Gould, $400,000, and Moses Taylor $900,000. All these loans are thoroughly secured by bonds which even at the market value of yesterday will cover the amount of indebtedness and leave 25 per cent. surplus.

Action of the Coal Companies—No Apprehension of a Panic.

A secret meeting of the coal companies was held Saturday, at which official sanction was given to the programme to stop working three days every week in June. It was proposed to make a statement of the actual condition of the affairs of each company connected with the coal interest, showing that up to date the Jersey Central was $750,000 net ahead of the same period last year; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western $600,000 ahead, and Delaware & Hudson Canal $550,000. The subject was referred to a meeting to be held next Wednesday, the managers contending that there is no immediate appression of a panic.

Nothing has been learned from President Gowen to-night, of the Reading failure. The feeling is that stockholders will be protected. It is denied that mining will be suspended by the company.

The Reading Works Suspended; but Will Continue Operations.

READING, May 23. The Eagle announces that the Reading Iron Works have suspended payment, owing to complications with the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Companies, being under mutual obligations. The iron works run several furnaces, a large rolling mill, tube works, nail works, foundry, steam barge, and sheet iron mill, employing a large number of hands. They pay out about $80,000 a month. Work will continue.

THE WAR IN CUBA.

Reported Victory of the Cuban Patriots Over the Spanish Troops.

NEW YORK, May 23. The Herald has a report that an action took place in Cuba last week in which General Carrillo and Colonel Sanchez overcame the Spaniards and made prisoners of four Spanish officers besides taking other prisoners and war material. The prisoners were treated with the greatest kindness. The fight occurred near Santos Espiritus.

OUTRAGED ILLINOIS!

THE CONVENTION PACKED FOR GRANT!

A COMING WHIRLWIND OF POPULAR PROTEST!

Ringing Card of Hon. C. B. Farwell!

LOGAN AS A COUNTER-OUT!

Contesting Delegations From Grant's State!

Anti-Grant Delegates Appeal to the National Convention.

INDIGNATION MEETING CALLED AT CHICAGO.

A Ringing Protest From Gallant Charley Farwell.

CHICAGO, May 23. The following card from Hon. Charles B. Farwell of Chicago, will be published to-morrow:

SPRINGFIELD, May 21.

To the Republicans of Illinois:

By the personal and desperate exertions of Senator Logan, of the Commissioner of Internal revenue and his Collectors, by the disgraceful interference of National officials in primaries and county conventions, Gen. Grant has apparently carried Illinois by the contemptible majority of thirty-eight, with Cook county unrepresented.

If the whole ninety-two delegates of Cook county had been admitted the vote would have been fifty-four majority against Grant.

If the fifty-four uncontested delegates from Cook county had been allowed to vote there would have been eighteen majority against Grant.

The Convention was packed from its organization: the Chairman ordered to recognize only certain persons; debate was cut off; and parliamentary law neglected or overruled as the exigency required.

What is so meagre a majority in his own State worth to Grant?

The anti-Grant Districts have appointed District Delegates and will present them at Chicago.

Logan and Carcelon stand as the political burglars of the time, and Logan's crime against liberty will in the end bring him no more spoil than was won by Garcelon."

An Indignation Meeting to be Held in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 23. A call has been issued for a mass demonstration Wednesday evening against the action of the State Convention in not admitting the solid anti-Grant delegation from Cook county.

HEAVY RAINS AND FLOOD IN GEORGIA.

Railroad Accident---Several Persons Killed.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 22. Heavy rains have flooded the country. No trains to or from here to-day. An engine and 11 cars were wrecked in Sehatulga Creek. The engineer, fireman and two coal passers were killed. The river rose fifteen feet and cotton will have to be replanted.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Mysterious Tragedy.

BOSTON, May 23. Walter Smith, aged about 15, was found last night at Somerville, in the rear of the Somerville park, shot in the body and knee fractured. He was first discovered by two young men crossing the Park, and was then breathing, but expired in a few moments. To-day Charles F. Williams, 18 years of age, a companion of the deceased, was arrested for murder. Considerable mystery surrounds the tragedy, as no motive for crime is apparent, unless it be that the deceased has recently relinquished the friendship of Williams. The latter is employed in a grain store on State street in this city, is a son of Joseph P. Williams, a well known and respectable citizen, and has always borne an excellent character. Though Smith was assaulted by Williams and was retreating when the latter fired at him with the revolver, he received one or two shots and fell forward on the pavement fracturing his skull. Williams will be arraigned to-morrow.

Another Murder.

FALL RIVER, May 23. The body of Wm. B. Eaton, of Roxbury, Mass., was found near Steep Brook, yesterday, badly disfigured and with the evidence of having been dead some time. An investigation leads to the impression that deceased was robbed and murdered.

GRANT NOT TO WITHDRAW.

A Galena (Ill.) special to the Tribune says the Galena Gazette, whose editor is a personal friend of General Grant and knows whereof he asserts, will publish a statement to-day asserting in the strongest possible terms that Grant will not withdraw.

THE COURTS AND EXPRESS COMPANIES.

CINCINNATI, May 23. The action of the United States Circuit Court at Indianapolis in granting the order restraining the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railway from interfering with the Adams Express Company's business on its line, so long as a reasonable compensation is paid, has been followed by United States Court of Kentucky in the case of the Adams Express Company against Louisville Cincinnati and Lexington Railroad.

THE STRIKE AT OMAHA.

Militia Sent to the Scene.

OMAHA, Neb., May 22. Two companies of militia arrived here last night. Gov. Nance has arrived with the Columbus company. Two companies of the Omaha militia are on duty at the smelting works. Two companies of U. S. troops, from Fort Omaha, are under arms at the Government Canal, a few rod from the smelting works. There has been no collision yet between the strikers and the troops but one may occur at any moment. The authorities are determined to protect the smelting works company in putting men at work who want to do so.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Yesterday was Trinity Sunday.

The Court has adjourned until June twelfth.

The freight boom continues on the Maine Central.

The lumbermen are anxiously looking for rain.

The "Gull" drive was at Schoodic rapids Saturday afternoon.

The steamer City of Bangor had a large freight for Bar Harbor Saturday.

A team loaded with hoop poles was wrecked in East Market Square Saturday.

The Parlor cars will be placed on the day train between this city and Boston to-day.

Saturday morning the first raft of logs of the season passed up Kenduskeag stream.

There was a very pleasant Sabbath School Concert at the Third church last evening.

Persons owning wild lands in the State of Maine will be interested in the notice in another column.

The rings for the graduating class at the Castine Normal School were made by Lamson, of Portland.

The rear axle of a carriage that belonged in Spratt's livery stable gave away on Kenduskeag bridge Saturday.

The train from Mattawamkeag was three hours late Saturday morning owing to a difficulty in getting up steam in the engine.

Councilman Collett is improving the appearance of his residence on Centre street by putting down some granite door steps.

We understand that the valuable farm buildings at Topsfield, owned by O. F. Lathrop, were destroyed by fire last night.

A yearling calf owned by W. H. Gardner, of Winn, was run over by the passenger train Friday afternoon and had one leg broken.

The report that Chandler's Band, of Portland, had been engaged for the Commencement exercises at the State College is incorrect.

Every member of St. John's Commandery is requested to be present this evening as important business will come before the meeting.

Under one roof in Belfast, and the only persons living there, are three dwellers whose ages are respectively 90, 82 and 78—aggregating 250 years.

Saturday a small boy got his head between the rails of a fence on Harlow street so that it was necessary to cut the rails in order to extricate him.

The tannery burned at Lee Thursday night was owned by Elisha Bradford & Son. We understand that it was insured for three thousand dollars.

On Tuesday last; Winslow Kent, of Brewer Village, while at work in a planing mill in Providence, R. I., had a finger cut off from his right hand.

Hon. George Parker, of Lewiston, is visiting friends in this city. Mr. Parker was born in this city on the day that the old steamer Bangor made her first trip here.

The dwelling house of Ephraim Shute, of Stockton, was burned Friday night with all its contents. Mr. Shute, who was an elderly man, was so over come by overexertion and suffocation that he died shortly after the fire.

The sale of tickets Saturday indicates a large attendance at the Boston Museum Company's entertainment Wednesday evening. Those desiring good seats will do well to make application at Bugbee's.

Norombega Lodge K. of P. has extended an invitation to the lodge at St. John to visit this city about the Fourth of July. If the invitation is accepted they will probably make an excursion to Fort Point during the day.

A grand rally of the Reform Clubs of this section especially is expected at the State Convention of Reform clubs to be held at Bucksport, June 2d and 3d. A large attendance and interesting meetings are expected. The Bucksport and Bangor Railroad will ticket at half fare on those days.

SHOW WINDOW BROKEN. One of the large plate glass windows of J. W. Coomb's store on Main street was broken Saturday night. The window was evidently broken with a beer bottle, as the pieces of a bottle were found scattered about the sidewalk. It must have been done between twelve and one o'clock as two of the officers on that side were then eating supper, and the third was down at the ferry after a drunken man.

ILLEGAL FISHING. Fish Wardens Kelley of Orono, and Green, of Brewer, captured two fellows fishing with dip-nets in the fishway at Veazie, Saturday, together with a large lot of fish of various kinds. The law in this State prohibits fishing with nets of any kind within five hundred yards of any fishway, dam, or mill race, and one hundred yards with a hook and line. These fellows will probably receive an early introduction to His Honor Judge Goodenow.

A PROFITABLE ENTERTAINMENT. An entertainment of an interesting nature occured Saturday afternoon in the Grammar school. The scholars from the eight rooms were assembled in the upper hall, when Miss Barabee, an elocutionist of some note, made a pleasant call and the school was entertained by several excellent selections. Miss Barabee is a graduate from a Philadelphia school of elocution and is a fine reader.

THE OPERA. The sale of tickets for the opera "Chimes of Normandy" will open at Bugbee & Co.'s one week from this morning. This opera will be presented by a fine array of home talent under the direction of Mr. J. C. Bartlett, with Mr. M. H. Andrews as conductor. Every care is being exercised to insure the success of the entertainment even to the most minor detail, and we are informed that the actors are making very rapid and encouraging progress in their work. There will be a full rehearsal this evening.

A GOOD SALE. The Overseers of the poor sold the city wood lot to I. W. Robinson, of Hampden, for eight hundred dollars, last week. We understand that he intends to stock it with young cattle and sheep. The city bought this lot containing some three hundred acres for about three thousand dollars, twenty-two years since, and have taken from it between nine and ten thousand cords of wood, besides pine, cedar and juniper timber and shipknees. The balance of the standing wood is reserved to be removed the coming winter.

COLBY UNIVERSITY. The following will be the order of exercises on Field Day, June eleventh: 1, one hundred yards dash; 2, putting shot; 3, standing long jump; 4, throwing hammer; 5, one mile walk; 6, hop, skip and jump; 7, back to back run; 8 running long jump; 9, throwing base ball; 10, five-mile, go-as-you-please; 11, standing high jump; 12, running high jump; 13, three legged race; 14, quarter of a mile run; 15, wrestling match, collar and elbow, best two in three; 16 potato race.

CROSBY GUARDS. The Company known as the Crosby Guards, of Hampden, under the command of Capt. Flagg., have been inspected and mustered into the State service by Lieut. Col. White and Assistant Surgeon Briggs of the 1st Regiment M. V. M. There were also present Lieut. R. G. Rollins, Adjutant, and Sergeant Major J. L. Howe, of the 1st M. V. M. The general appearance of the Company was good, the men being well sized, and numbers fifty men. After being mustered into the service they were measured for their new uniforms by Mr. Reynolds from the firm of Robinson & Arey, of this city.

RUNAWAY. A horse owned by Officer Walker made things lively in West Market Square Saturday afternoon. The animal was frightened on Hammond street by a heavy team passing and started down the hill at full speed. Wingate's team was sprinkling the square at the time and the runaway struck one of the horses and fell down, but soon regained his feet for a fresh start. Mr. Charles Averill seized the horse, however, before he got any distance and prevented further damage. Officer Walker's wagon was somewhat damaged, but the horses were not seriously injured.

A FORMER RESIDENT. It is always pleasant to note the kindly remembrance of Bangor by former citizens. We learn from the northern agents of Messrs. Conant & Emmons, merchants of Beaufort, S. C., that Mr. John Conant the senior partner, was a resident of this city, from 1852 to 1862, and well remembered by many of our older citizens. Mr. Conant went from Bangor in one of the Maine regiments in 1861, and in 1863 located permanlty at Beaufort, where he has since resided, but does not forget his old home. Last season two cargoes of ice, hay and brick were shipped from this port, to his firm, and the schooner "Loretto Fish" sailed hence early in the present month, with a cargo of the same commodities, to their consignment. We wish Mr. C. success in his business, and trust he may long continue to remember his northern home as kindly as at present.

TEMPERANCE MEETING. Every available seat was occupied yesterday, in City Hall, at the Reform Club meeting. President Montgomery conducted the exercises, which opened by singing "Sound the battle cry" by the choir, followed by reading the Scriptures by Mrs. Barton, of Lawrence, Mass., and prayer by Prof. Hamlin, of this city. The speaking was opened by the President, in words of encouragement, and was continued by Mr. McFarland and Rev. Mr. Howard, all of the club, the latter gentleman announcing that he had forwarded a petition to the Governor containing one hundred and fifty names, praying for the enforcement of the new liquor law in our city. Prof. Hamlin also said he had been circulating a like petition and had even visited a rum-shop for the proprietor's signature; was treated gentlemanly; was told his signature should be found in such a paper when all other sellers would sign it. Mrs. Barton, of Lawrence, Mass., was next introduced, and prefaced her sound and logical address by thankfully acknowledging the courtesy and kindness which she has received during her stay in our city. She closed with an affecting peroration and poem. Mr. Prentiss of the crusade was the last to speak, and paid a deserved tribute to the able and convincing arguments of the gifted lady from Lawrence.

Saturday we saw several of the milk cans that were in the house of Capt. Wentworth, of Orrington, recently struck by lightning. The cans were melted in several places.

We learn that a small boy had his leg broken on the Hampden road, Saturday. He was riding in an express wagon when he got his leg caught in the spokes of one of the wheels.

Mr. George Allchin of the Theological Seminary has received an appointment from the American Board of Missions to Japan. Mr. Allchin will remain in this country some time pursuing a preparatory course prior to his departure for his new field of labor.

Governor Davis was in Augusta, Friday, on State business. His Excellency has an eye single to the welfare of the commonwealth. Watts Gibbs, Esq., of Wiscasset, was nominated County Treasurer for Lincoln county, vice Lincoln W. Gibbs, resigned. A special meeting of the Executive Council is called for next Tuesday, May 25th.

GRAND ARMY.

Post John F. Appleton at Farmington.

Chief Mustering Officer John F. Foster, of Bangor, visited the town of Farmington last Friday evening, in company with Department Commander I. S. Bangs, of Waterville, for the purpose of organizing Post 25, being very ably assisted by the following named officers of the Department of Maine, Grand Army of the Republic: A. S. Perham, Lewiston, A. D. C., and Chief of Staff; E. T. Merrill, Farmington, of Council of Administration; John S. Manson, Lewiston, Asst. Mustering Officer; C. C. Berry, Brunswick, A. D. C.; A. B. Adams, Wilton, A. D. C.; and also by Comrades Lothrop and Conner, Officer of Day and Officer of Guard, of E. W. Woodman Post 18, E. Wilton.

The officers elected and installed were as follows: E. I. Merrill, P. C.; E. S. Bragg, S. V. C.; L. G. Brown, J. V. C.; A. Sylvester, Adjt.; A. J. Gerry, Q. M.; C. A. Allen, Surg.; A. Jennings, Chap.; E. S. Prescott, Officer of Day; A. J. Deine, Off. of G.; F. N. Harris, S. M.; L. C. Marston, Q. M. S. This Post will be known as John F. Appleton, Post 25, Department of Maine, G. A. R. The unanimous adoption of this name, in respect to the memory of the deceased son of Chief Justice Appleton, of Bangor, called forth a few very feeling remarks from Department Commander Bangs, who had served in the same command under Gen. Banks with Col. Appleton, both ranking together as Colonels, and being very closely connected in their camp life.

After a few short remarks from several of the comrades, the encampment closed, all feeling that with the excellent material which this Post has started with, prosperity was sure to follow.

MEETING OF TEACHERS.

Fourth Semi-Annual Meeting Piscataquis Teachers' Association.

An occasional correspondent writes: The fourth semi-annual meeting of the Piscataquis Teachers' Association was held in Milo, Thursday and Friday of last week, and the session proved to be a very valuable one. This association started out two years ago with a first meeting of less than a dozen, and now it numbers nearly or quite a hundred members—and nearly all of them were present. Several of the towns near the place of meeting suspended their schools to enable the teachers to attend, thereby evincing considerable desire for improvement in common school instruction.

Several papers were read, nearly all upon practical, every day topics, and after each there was more or less discussion which we were glad to notice was generally confined to the questions in issue. There was a willingness to take part and an earnestness which is surely an indication of success, and a thoroughness in the treatment of the topics which it was good to see.

The exercises were by no means confined to those now engaged in teaching, many citizens and school officers and ex-teachers taking a part and lending the weight of their experiences to increase the general interest, which seems to be spreading in that county very much to its credit.

If the Penobscot county teachers could be persuaded to convene once or twice a year for the discussion of the best methods for conducting and improving the schools under their charge, we think many of them would be better satisfied with the results of their own work, and possibly some might acquire information about better methods which would materially increase their usefulness. What say, teachers, will you consider the advisability of a convention sometime during the year?

MEMORIAL SERMON.

Discourse by Rev. Mr. Speare.

The members of Post Heath, No. 12, met at their hall last evening and marched to the First Parish church, under command of Cpl. A. B. Farnham, where Rev. S. L. B. Speare delivered the Memorial Sermon. Several citizens marched in the procession, among them our venerable Senator, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin. Seats in the body of the church were reserved for the Post and the remainder filled by the very large congregation present. The altar was appropriately decorated with the American flag and ornamented with flowers.

The exercises opened with singing, followed by reading the Scriptures and a powful prayer by Rev. R. L. Howard. After another musical selection Rev. Mr. Speare announced the text Isaiah 2d—4th, and delivered a very able discourse, of which the following is an abstract:

SERMON.

Everywhere upon the pages of history we find the traces of blood. War has filled the earth from its beginning. Seldom does the sun make his daily round without looking upon some field of carnage. What has taken years to mature and perfect is crushed in a moment. But in some ways has come from war's terrible surgery the advancement of the world in its best life. It has done much for its intellectual quickening. The siege of Troy, the revolt of the American colonies, were instanced as illustrations. In the stress of war, new questions are grappled with. War is a great tonic for the time, though exhaustion may follow. In our recent struggle, terrible as it was, we came to see clearly the condition of affairs. The real cause of the war, like a fibrous tumor in the physical system, had wound itself about our institutions until clear judgment was difficult. War's dissecting knife severed the entanglement, and we saw the nation's sin and disease in clear outline, loathsome and deadly. War is not merely a test of physical superiority or an engine of destruction. It is an educating force, producing ideas. If civil war comes to us again, it will have nothing to do with the question of slavery—that is a lost cause. That question is solved. The French revolution was a great teacher. Ghastly as were its horrors, it tore away the errors and false defences; and from the dread surgery of the sword healing came. From fields ploughed with cannon shot and watered with blood, came harvests useful to every government of earth.

War also quickens moral convictions and perceptions. Of its demoralization he said he was not unmindful; but under chastisement the conscience is heeded. Should he meet an infidel or a skeptic he should point him to our recent civil war, and ask him if, in its beginning and progress, there was not an evident providential control. While the sacrifices of war may not always spring from religious motives, the unselfishness of such sacrifices cannot but cultivate that which religion enjoins. The Christian hero is a grander Christian and a grander man because of his training in the terrible scenes of war, and is better armed for the great spiritual warfare.

War's opportunities and demands bring to the front high abilities, otherwise undeveloped and obscure. This development of character and capacity under the stress of war, is not limited to the field of service. The civilian during our recent war did more and better work because of the extra demands of the hour. Never before were such streams of beneficence poured out, and the standard of giving was raised.

War must be given one more item of credit. While its very genius is destruction, at the same time it interests the capacity for production, so much so to offset largely its ravages in the line of material things. Following these thoughts, war is not altogether an unmixed evil, as the world now stands. Still less can we feel so when covering the dead with love's offering. But in doing so, we can but say, "Happy the land for which such as these would die; happy they who were not unequal to the hour of privilege; happy we who can point our sons to such recent examples of heroic living and dying." War may be terrible, but in such a presence we may thank God for these heroic examples.

While such is some true and substantial apology for war, what of the indictment against it? Its waste beggars description. Figures were given showing its cost to England. In Europe alone, more than one thousand millions of dollars are annually lost through the insatiable demands of war in times of peace. The burdens of debt imposed by this, means ignorance, social degradation, immorality, barbarism, drunkenness and Communism are not without cause. Where a large portion of the race finds its energies ruinously drawn upon by the remorseless hand of absolute power, its substance worse than wasted, its life only the sport of tyrants; then there must be revolt; and when minds held in the degradation and ignorance of serfdom, break into revolt, excess must follow.

Think next of war's mail havoc of human life, considering at the same time the sacredness of human life. Edmund Burke in his time, estimated the world's population at five hundred millions, and war's destructions up to that time, as more than seventy times that number, but it, by actual slaughter. Who can measure the woes of the widows and fatherless caused by war? But after all the most dark havoc of wars, they have usually left the original questions at issue where they found them at the beginning. This was not true of our recent terrible conflict, which is an exception to the rule. This point the preacher abundantly illustrated. Wars are precipitated often by the most trifling causes, and the consequences fall largely upon the innocent, while those who reap the advantages usually escape its burdens.

The last count in war's indictment is its frequent championship of some widespread, unequivocal wrong, as was done in that war where many before him struggled, successfully. In war one party may be obeying the call of sacred duty, in defending rights never to be abandoned, whatever the cost of defence, but the aggressors are the high priests of wickedness. As men now are, no appeal to arms may not be avoided, but let it always be remembered that in the eyes of God every war is black with the concentration of every form of human guilt on the part of the wanton aggressor. There are three ways in which to settle great questions—one is in the forum of reason, another in the forum of conscience, and the other in the field of force, and by these processes questions are settled. We are met with the question, Must war continue forever? Wars shall cease—How? The preacher proceeded to answer this grave question. An English essayist has used an interesting legend of Ceylon to set forth his inability as to any end of war. That legend has it that a granite pillar, sixty feet square and three times as high, is visited once in a century by an angel wearing a robe so light as to seem woven from zephyrs, or from pulses of the air, such is its transparency and gossamer lightness. The angel does not touch the pillar, save as the hem of his robe gently grazes it with the delicacy of light. By these visits and by such contact the stone is to be worn to dust. When this is done, wars may end. He would not put the era of peace at so great a distance. Indications are not wanting that the dawn begins with promise of universal peace at some time, though far removed. One remedy is the superior destructiveness of war's engineery. The number of killed and wounded in battle has steadily fallen off as the weapons of war have grown deadly. The triumphs of mechanical inventions also prevent the opportunity for personal exploits which once fired the enthusiasm of such heroism. Put opposing ranks five miles as far apart as formerly, and war in comparison is dull and prosaic. The same principle applies to ships of war. Again, this world is less liable to war because governments are controlled less and less by the individual caprices of rulers. Warlike ions are increasingly dynastic, rather than personal. The voice of the people is more and more authoritative. The multiplied industries of our advancing civilization keep men too busy, too profitably employed, either need war or to allow time to drop productive pursuits, and to invite mutual butchery. Commerce was named as another agent of peace. The world is one great workshop, sure to suffer throughout when any one department is seriously damaged. The sympathies aroused by war in responding to suffering have led to peace and good will. The sermon closed with an eloquent and impressive picturing of the world when men "shall learn war no more!" The whole earth will then be a true theocracy; human conduct will be under a control more absolute and unyielding than brute force ever knew—that control which comes from within, dictated by enlightened individual conscience and righteous will. The day may be far distant, but it will come; and then, not in prophecy, as under the Star of Bethlehem, but in glad fulfillment, will the angels sing, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

The exercises closed with singing and the benediction.

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.

Meeting at Hermon.

The Penobscot County Council, P. of H., met with the Hermon Grange on Saturday last. The meeting was called to order by Worthy Master Gregory, of Hampden, and the question for discussion, "When is the proper time to cut hay and which is the best method of curing it," was taken up and discussed both forenoon and afternoon. The neighboring orders were liberally represented, making a very large gathering.

The ladies of the Hermon Grange prepared the tables, and they were loaded with everything to tempt the appetite.

After dinner the exercises were resumed, and a lively and instructive discussion ensued, lasting up to the hour for adjournment, some of the most interesting, valuable and amusing remarks being made by the female members. An original poem, read by a lady member, was a very creditable production, and was well received. This was the last meeting before the annual election of officers, and Col. Walker, of Hampden, in a few well chosen words complimented Worthy Master Gregory for the able manner in which he had presided over the meeting for the past year, intimating that he was entitled to his full share of credit for the organization's great success and usefulness. His remarks were warmly applauded.

It was voted to accept an invitation to hold the next meeting at St. Albans, with Somerset County Council, on the third Saturday of June next at 10 o'clock A. M. A committee, appointed for the purpose, reported an excellent programme for the meeting with a subject for discussion: Resolved, "that farmers devote too little time to recreation."

An excellent choir added their full share to the interest of the meeting. The day was a charming one, and the event will long be remembered with pleasure.

A Providence man slandered his wife and she took her revenge by pelting him with eggs in a public street.

THE SOWER.

White, through the neighboring fields the sower stalks
With measured step, and liberal, throws the grain
Into the faithful bosom of the ground
The harrow follows harsh, and shuts the scene
Ye gracious Heavens! for now laborious man
Has done his part. Ye fostering breezes blow!
Ye softening dews, ye tender showers descend!
And temper all, thou world-reviving sun,
Into the perfect year! Now ye who live
In luxury and ease, in pomp and pride,
Think those lost themes unworthy of your ear,
Such themes as these the rural Maro sung
To wide-imperial Rome, in the full height
Of elegance and taste, by grace refined

A SIGN BOARD.

BY ELIJA WHEELER.

I will paint you a sign, rumseller,
And hang it over your door,
A finer and better sign board
Than ever you had before,
I will paint it with skill of a master,
And many shall pause to see
This work ful piece of painting,
So like the reality

I will paint yourself, rumseller
As you wait for the trembling boy,
Just in the morning of manhood,
A mother's pride and joy
He has no thought of stopping
But you greet him with a smile
And you seem so blithe and friendly
That he pauses to chat awhile

I will paint at you again rumseller
I will paint you as you stand
With a foaming glass of liquor
Extended in each hand
He wavers but you urge him
Drink pledge me just this one
And he lifts the glass and drains it
As the hellish work is done

And I next will paint a drunkard
Down a year has flown
And into this loathsome creature
The fair young boy has grown
The work was quick, was rapid,
I will paint him as he is
A horrid drunken sluggard
Under the worthy skies

I will paint the form of the mother
As she kneels at her darling's bed
His beautiful boy that was dearer
Than all the world beside
I will paint at the shape of a coffin,
I shall fill with one word—ruin
I will paint all the grim shelter,
And paint it free of cost

The sin and the shame and sorrow
The crime and the want and the woe,
That is born there in your workshop
No hand can paint, you know
But I paint you a sign rumseller
And many shall pause to view
The fearful and awful sign board,
So true, so ghastly true

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 4 to 5 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office

ENVELOPES

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window), when ordered in lots of not less than 500

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if not claimed within thirty days, or less, written or Stamped, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with
